LIST OF TROOPS IN CHINA
-----

Areas controlled by General Chang Hsueh-liang consisting of Manchuria & Jehol

- Moukden : Civil Governor Chang Hsueh-liang ( 張學良 )
Kirin : Civil Governor Chang Tso-hsiang ( 張作相 ).
Heilungkiang : Civil Governor Pan Fuh-ling ( 潘福林 ).
Jehol : Civil Governor Tang Yu-ling ( 湯玉麟 ).

In the above four provinces (Manchuria and Jehol), there are 39 mixed brigades of 10,000 men in each brigade, bringing the total to 390,000. Among these are included : 25,000 artillerists, 60,000 cavalymen, and 10,000 members of the Labour Corps. At the commencement of the Sino-Soviet dispute, Marshal Chang organized half of the above troops into two army corps which are now serving at the front. The commander of the 1st Corps is General Chang Tso-hsiang and that of the 2nd Corps, General Yu Tseng. Besides, there are in his commission 12 armoured trains and his fleet consists of some 50 cruisers, gunboats, etc. The latter is under the command of Admiral Sung Hung-lich. His air forces consist of 60 aeroplanes. His troops are well trained. He is nominally submissive to the Nanking Government, which, however, exercises no real control over him.

Sinkiang : Civil Governor Ching Ju-jen ( 金樹仁 ).

This province has an army of some 50,000, and is normally subordinate to Nanking.

Yunnan : Civil Governor Lung Yuin ( 龍雲 ).

This province has an army of 30,000, and its relation with the Nanking Government is much the same as that of Sinkiang.

Kweichow : Civil Governor Mao Kwang-hsiang ( 毛光翔 ).

Same as Yunnan, it has an army of 30,000, and its relation with Nanking is not much different from that province.

In Szechuen :

General Yang Seng (楊森) has about 40,000 troops stationed in the eastern part.

General Liu Hsiang (劉湘) has about 60,000 troops stationed in the southern part.

General Liu Wen-hwei (劉文輝) has about 50,000 troops stationed in the western part.

General Liu Cheng-hou (劉存厚) has about 10,000 troops stationed in the northern part.

General Lan Sing-hwei (賴心輝) has some 30,000 troops stationed also in the southern part (Kaohsien and Yunnan)

General Tien Chung-yao (田頌堯) has some 30,000 troops stationed also in the northern part.

General Teng Sih-hou (鄧錫侯) has about 40,000 troops stationed in Chengtu and vicinity.

All these generals only look after their own interests within the area they occupy, and are constantly at variance with each other over conflict of interests. They have little relation with the National Government at Nanking.
